Entry via gold coin and bring change to shower the competitors if they put up a good performance. This is an old tradition and I went to a fight night in Newtown about 15 years ago and the fight was so good that the sky rained with coins for at least 2 minutes it was very cool but that's another story.

It is my hope that we get as many of our friends family and general public to come and have some fun. I would love some help in organizing the event. I will probably provide some refreshments on an informal basis and BYO is certainly fine.

Will have an area where can sell some merchandise and there will be door prizes and special memberships available on the night.

Sponsorship is truly available and if someone could do the filming would be great.

We will definitely have some sort of ring and I will enlist a professional for the ring card girl but thank those who have offered for their enthusiasm.

Close Ben but no cigar!

Would love to an old-style boxing poster for the event so for that and any other help greatly appreciated!

FENECH FARCE

Most will know I am not the greatest fan Jeff Fenech both of his fighting style and his style in general but like many others I was curious to see what the Azumah Nelson fight would bring. As usual I was keen to do my homework and watch as many of the preliminaries as I could and I struck gold in the semi-main event fight with Johnnie Lewis trained and former world champion

Gary St Clair and a relatively unknown who had a record of 10 fights for 10 wins and was just 21 years old who I believed is worthy of the accolade of being the next Anthony Mundine. What ensued was a world class match with me becoming incredibly irate at the Fenech paid commentators who were totally one-eyed and weren't seeing the fight I was but I had the last laugh when the judges awarded a unanimous decision to my fighter. The Fenech vs. Azumah Nelson match was pathetic and although Fenech looked in great shape he was unsteady and mainly pushed at Nelson who two months shy of 50 hit Fenech with shots that rocked him. Jeff probably deserved the points decision on punches thrown kind of Hopefully no more whining from Fenech.

NEW RING

After resisting for so long I have decided I want to get a boxing ring for the school. I am hoping to make it look like an old 1940's style boxing ring and then surround it with old style pictures and posters with the cunning plan of taking advantage finally of the constant calls I get from advertising agencies and film location scouts but still keep dojo feel as well.
